Please join our growing team of organizers across the Commonwealth! Our campaign is about coming together to support Deval Patrick by reaching out and building person-to-person relationships. We're asking you to commit to building a network of 50 people to get the word out and build support for the important campaign ahead. Our goal is to have 21,700 organizers talking to people in their communities about our past achievements and where we hope to go from here. In the months ahead we're going to win this campaign the old-fashioned way – people talking to people to build grass roots support!

- (5) Encourage people on your list to start organizing their own network of 50 friends in their own community. Remember: the goal is 21,700 organizers across the commonwealth!
